DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

THE PADDY CROP OF 1924-25—SECOND REPORT

[On an average of the five years ending 1923-24, the area under paddy in the Madras Presidency has represented about 12½ per cent of the total area under paddy in India.]

The area sown with paddy up to the end of November 1924 is estimated at 8,619,000 against 8,613,000 acres for the corresponding date of last year.

2. There have been increases in Ganjam, Vengalpetam, East Godavari, Guntur, the Deccan, Malabar, and Coimbatore owing to heavy rains and sufficient irrigation supplies in rivers and tanks. The area in Tanjore was normal and exceeded by one-tenth of an acre, the area in the previous year which was abnormal. The area in the West Coast was almost the same as the previous year. There have been decreases in the other districts, especially in South Arcot, Palani, Madurai, Ramanathapuram, and Tirunelveli. The reduction in West Godavari and Kistna was due to very heavy rains at the transplantation period. The reduction in the other districts was due to late rains and insufficient supplies in irrigation canals.

3. The first crop has been harvested everywhere. The yield has been reduced slightly in Trichinopoly by the combination of want of rain in Tanjore by the rains received soon after transplantation which retarded the growth of the crop, and in Madurai by heavy rains and floods at harvest time. Yields have been normal or about normal in the other districts. The season has been favourable for the second crop in the Coimbatore, Nilgiris, and Chingleput. In Salem, the crop is expected to be drying up in parts for want of water. In Trichinopoly, the yield will be slightly reduced owing to the attack of stem-borer and silver-shot. Normal yields are expected in Tanjore if there are no more heavy and continuous rains. The crop in parts of the Vinnerally valley has been affected by floods. Several yields may be reported in the other districts.

The seasonal figure for the Presidency works out to 101 per cent of the average.

4. Figures by districts are given below.

THE INDIGO CROP OF 1945-46, PRELIMINARY REPORT
 (On an average strike five years ending 1925-26, the area under indigo in the Madras Presidency has averaged 476 per acre of the total area under indigo in India.)

The area sown with indigo up to the end of November 1945 is estimated at 22,106 acres against 25,000 acres of the corresponding date of last year, an increase of 34 per cent.

1. The increase in area is fairly general, owing to the favourable season. It is marked in Guntur and Madras.

2. Yields below normal are reported from Vengalpet, Chingleput, South Arcot, and Polur. Normal yields are reported from the other districts.

3. There is no reliable information as to the percentage of the crop actually manufactured into dye. But if the whole crop were manufactured into dye, the possible yield would be about 19,000 cwt. against 14,000 cwt. estimated at the corresponding date of last year. As a matter of fact, however, a large portion of the crop is grown merely as a convenient form of green dressing and it is not and poured into the soil. This is a practice which is common on the seacoast. The area yield works out to 20 per cent of the average.

4. Figures by District are given in the statement below.
